

*Summer
Report 2018*

*Simply Outdoorable
Shopping & Dining
The Hamptons*

“ When it’s summer in the City it’s time to head to the Hamptons, the best beach life just a couple of hours away. Whether you visit for a weekend, month or season, you’ll have plenty of opportunities to find the latest trends in shopping and dining on this sandy seaside playground. ”

Sag Harbor

Goop Sag Harbor is open for the season at 4 Bay Street. LoveShackFancy’s Rebecca Hessel Cohen is debuting her first brick-and-mortar location in Sag Harbor, 117 Main Street. Madewell might have the most unique Hamptons pop-up this summer; they’ve partnered with Jeni’s Splendid Ice Creams and are sending a branded “ice cream truck” to specific locations starting in Sag Harbor. The Madewell Instant Summer Tour will offer shoppers the chance to enjoy ice cream and scoop up sunglasses, beauty products and more. BLT creator Laurent Tourondel, who owns LT Burger in Sag Harbor, has turned the town’s local pizza spot into a more sophisticated Neapolitan style parlor, Sag Pizza, 103 Main Street. He’s brought a wood-fired oven from Naples and will be using local ingredients.

East Hampton

Aerin East Hampton, offers shoppers the same luxury products as the by-appointment-only Manhattan location, 7 Newtown Lane. Brunello Cucinelli has doubled the size of 39 Newtown Lane and Jimmy Choo is popping up a few doors down, 33 Newtown Lane. Tory Burch revamped her 47 Newtown Lane store. Donna Karan moved her Urban Zen line into 16 Main St.

LoveShackFancy

The Reformation Beach House shop for sustainably made clothing is back in the Hamptons after its inaugural pop-up last year, 85 Main Street. Faherty’s surf-inspired clothing made of sustainable fabrics now at 56 Main Street.

The iconic Italian restaurant, Il Mulino opened at 108 Wainscott Stone Road. With a famed flagship in the West Village and locations from Miami to Aspen, Il Mulino is now in a large house on Georgica Pond. The Il Mulino of the Hamptons will be a streamlined version of the larger, grander restaurants in metropolitan areas and resort towns. The pop-up will stay open year round if its first season goes well. You can now have the restaurant roll into your backyard as Harbor Bistro Mobile Kitchen is taking the show on the road. The new food truck with a curated menu of flatbread pizzas, fish tacos, vegan noodle bowls, clambakes will be available for events. The world’s best restaurant came out east last summer because its home location was closed for renovations. Eleven Madison Park is back open now as E.M.P. Summer House, 341 Pantigo Road, for a second edition with a pop-up restaurant in partnership with American Express. The more casual outpost offers an a la carte menu, indoor dining room, covered patio area, and picnic tables on our backyard. Reservations are exclusive to American Express Card Members and are available for the dining room, limited seating in the covered patio, and special experiences.

The backyard is for walk-ins only. Last summer took a real hit when beloved hotspot Moby's did not return for the season – and now, the Hamptons favorite is back! The new location is on the water at East Hampton Point, a resort complex and marina. Located at 295 Three Mile Harbor Hog Creek Rd., the restaurant has two kitchens, two bars and seats more than 250. Shuko Beach at Highway Restaurant & Bar, 290 Montauk Highway, by New York City's acclaimed Japanese omakase and kaiseki restaurant, Shuko, will be heading East for a unique pop-up dining experience at Highway Restaurant & Bar. A special Omakase and signature sushi bento boxes will be available.

AYR Beach House is part of the scene, 25 Madison St. French beauty brand L'Core Paris is at 9 Main Street to pamper yourself with products or have a sauna treatment. Alice + Olivia has moved to 68 Main Street. Henry Lehr relocated to 72 Main St. Maison Vivienne, 136 Main Street, offers a trip through the French culinary landscape. As part of The Inn, the restaurant is led by executive chef Florian Hugo who offers a modern take on classic South of France cuisine. The space will feature cathedral ceilings, indoor and outdoor seating, an herb and vegetable garden and two fireplaces. The Southampton Inn has scored veteran James Carpenter for its restaurant Claude's, 91 Hill Street. The chef, who previously ran the kitchens of the Living Room in East Hampton and Centro in Hamptons Bays, will use vegetables and herbs from the hotel's garden. The restaurant has undergone an overhaul – both the dining room and outside European courtyard and poolside patios have been renovated offering the prettiest outdoor dining in Southampton. Sushi by Bou at Jue Lan Club, 268A Elm Street, is a sushi pop-up hosted by the Chinese restaurant Jue Lan Club and is an incarnation of a New York City omakase where the chef selects his or her choices for the guests. The concept here is that of a speakeasy; exclusive and hard to find; an eight-person omakase bar is tucked away amid Jue Lan's back patio and the bar has a small cocktail menu.

Bridgehampton

L&W Market at 2493 Montauk Highway offers a specialty grocery store as an offshoot of Almond restaurant. Some of Almond's favorites are available to grab and go, alongside picnic basket staples.

Michelle Farmer Collaborate

Southampton

Palm Beach colorful resortwear and beachy accessories, Michelle Farmer Collaborate, is now at 10A Jobs Lane. Ruby and Jenna has taken over the former Calypso store at 24 Jobs Lane. Sam Edelman is opening a popup at 38 Jobs Lane. Italian Eleventy now at 53 Jobs Lane. Spanish luxury porcelain brand Lladro presents its first ever Hamptons shopping experience at 66 Jobs Lane.

Calissa

Montauk

Montauk's iconic beachfront resort is adding a rotating series of pop-up shops called Gurney's Fashion Collective, 290 Old Montauk Highway, Montauk; brands will include The Daily Edited, LoveShackFancy, Kendra Scott, Galpon.Co, Panama Hats and TopShop. The Surf Lodge, 83 Edgemere St., Montauk, will host a myriad of retail and fitness popups including luxury swim by Thorsun by George Sotelo, del Toro x Grateful Dead x Saks, Kitsune, Rebag and plenty more. Brian Mooney, who worked at the Clam Bar in Napeague for 24 years, has opened his own restaurant; Hooked, 34 South Etna Avenue. Featuring an open kitchen with counter service and picnic tables outside on the patio, the casual take-out seafood spots also has an interior space with a casual, beachy feel and nautical décor. The state park facility has been upgraded by Mike Torreiro, who founded the catering service Picnic in the Park. The food concession stand adjacent to the lighthouse at Montauk State Park offers a full bar and live music and is now George's Lighthouse Café, 2000 Montauk Highway. Salt Box at 99 Edgemere Street by restaurateur Jon Krasner has partnered with yoga teacher and former Navy Beach manager Lauren Musselman and Josh Mazza (Seamstress in NYC) to bring a healthier bent to his Montauk restaurant.

Water Mill

Chef-owner Jon Albrecht is bringing Italian staples to Water Mill with Culaccino, 670 Montauk Highway. This new spot which means 'the mark left on a table' is hoping to leave a positive mark on guests with a menu drawn from all regions of Italy. Calissa, 1020 Montauk Highway, is Mykonos on the East End. After a successful opening last summer, the upscale Mediterranean restaurant is back with a new Sunday brunch along with an Aperol Spritz Bar and an outdoor marketplace called the Agora, featuring local designers selling jewelry, eyewear and other items.

Best news ever, NET-A-PORTER offers same day delivery in the Hamptons!

Happy Summer and Happy Shopping!

Shirley Hope Consolo

